DETAILED ACTION

The following action is in response to application 10/712,253 filed on November 14, 2003.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. On line 6, "a frictional engagement element" is referenced, however if this is the same element as in claim 1, line 4 (which is believed to be the case), then applicant should amend the reference to be --the-- frictional engagement element.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, and 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Katou.

With regard to claim 1, Katou teaches a planetary gear unit 42 for an automatic transmission, comprising: a sun gear, a ring gear, and a carrier which supports a pinion and with which a hub

Art Unit: 3681

46 for a frictional engagement element 44 is integrated and which is located on a radially outer side of the ring gear (Fig. 1), wherein the carrier has one lateral plate and another lateral plate both of said lateral plates supporting the pinion (Fig. 1); and the hub is formed integrally with the one lateral plate and axially overlaps the pinion, and at least one notch, having a circumferential length is equal to or longer than a diameter of the pinion, is formed in an outer periphery of the hub (Fig. 1). With regard to claim 19, Katou teaches the unit, in the form of a simple planetary gear unit constituting a FWD-REF switching unit for a CVT wherein an input shaft 5 is coupled to the ring gear and the sun gear is coupled to a primary pulley 36, said planetary gear unit further comprising: a FWD clutch 43 interposed between the sun gear and the ring gear; and the frictional engagement element 44 serving as a REV brake for selectively stopping the carrier. With regard to claim 20, Katou teaches the unit, wherein the FWD clutch includes a clutch drum that couples the input shaft to the ring gear, a clutch hub integral with the sun gear, and multiple friction plates interposed between the clutch drum and the clutch hub (Fig. 1), the REV brake includes multiple friction plates interposed between a hub extending axially from the one lateral plate and a case 22/23 housing the planetary gear unit (Fig. 1), and the FWD clutch and REV brake radially overlap (Fig. 1). With regard to claim 21, see rejections of claim 1 and 19. Also, Katou teaches a secondary pulley 37 and a belt 38.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-18, and 22-25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Porter, Kubo, Murakami, Friedmann, Yasuda, and Yamaguchi '371 and '991 have been cited to show similar transmissions.

FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. Group 3600's facsimile number is (703) 305-3597. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Art Unit: 3681

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (703) 305-3597) on _____ (Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Roger L Pang whose telephone number is 703-305-0445 (571-272-7095 after April 7th). The examiner can normally be reached on 5:30am to 4:00pm.
